Greetings to the Graduates

As we go through life, our progress is marked by special moments when we turn corners, and new horizons open out before us. This convocation of scholars celebrates the happy observance of such an important turning point in your lives. The ceremony is steeped in customs that have been passed down to us over the centuries. It is sedate, colorful, traditional, and meaningful. We hope you will enjoy the experience, and will participate in the goodwill that permeates a day to be remembered.

By conferring its degrees, the University confirms that you have successfully fulfilled a rigorous course of study and have earned the right to enter into the collegiality of educated women and men. Be proud of what you have done, and be grateful for what the University has done for you.

Understand that the University of Alberta is not just the campus which you know so well. It is everything that our graduates of yesterday, today, and tomorrow accomplish to make our world a better place to live in. Today you join a worldwide community of alumni, a hundred thousand strong, whose support and interest is vital to the enhancement of the quality and the value of the degrees which you receive today. Keep in touch, and never forget the University that nurtured the mind you use every day. You entered to grow in wisdom. You leave the better to serve your community and yourselves.

Welcome and Congratulations.

Sandy Mactaggart
Chancellor

Paul Davenport
President and Vice-Chancellor

Universities began as small collections of scholars who worked together to preserve and advance knowledge. Students came to study with them and, in due course, an administrative structure arose to provide system and recognition for those studies. This ancient structure is preserved at the University of Alberta, with the faculty and the students providing the core of the University's purpose: teaching and the advancement of knowledge. The faculty's task is facilitated by their colleagues in the academic staff, the Faculty Service Officers, the Administrative Professional Officers and the Librarians, and the University's dedicated support staff.

The faculty, numbering some 1,600, is responsible for creating programs of study, for teaching, and for evaluating the learning of the student body, both undergraduate and graduate. In addition, faculty members are responsible for the scholarly reputation of the University by preserving and sharing knowledge and by pursuing new ideas and knowledge through their research.

The faculty and staff congratulate you, the graduates, on the successful completion of your present studies which is recognized by the degrees to which you are admitted today. Your achievement deserves praise. We hope your present knowledge provides a sound base for an education which will continue throughout a rewarding life. We would remind you of the advice given to graduands by Honorary Degree Recipient Dr Tommy Banks: "Try to be a good person. You will be amazed how rewarding it is."

Congratulations from the Faculty and Staff!

University Mace and Ceremonial Chairs

The University of Alberta Mace was designed and crafted specifically for the University as a gift from Dr Francis Phillip Galbraith, Chancellor of the University of Alberta from 1964 - 1970. It was presented by his son, Michael Galbraith, on behalf of his father on May 26, 1970.

Among its elements are: the Star of Saint Thomas Aquinas, the Patron Saint of Scholars; the Wild Rose of Alberta; the Maple Leaf; and the separate charges which make up the University's Coat of Arms. The University motto "Quaecumque Vera" ("Whosoever Things Are True" Phil 4:8) encircles the staff. The Mace is made of sterling silver which was rhodium plated after the insertion of the various enamelled shields which make up its elements. A special electro-plate process was used to apply 24 carat gold to other parts of the Mace.

It was intended that the Mace should be modern in appearance but with medieval origins. The preponderance of visual weight at the top of the staff and the rather complex section through the metalwork at this point are reminiscent of the use of the mace as a weapon, defensive or aggressive. The Mace is carried before the Chancellor, or Vice-Chancellor, in procession and rests on its stand in full view of the assembly during Convocation. Centuries ago the Mace was a symbol of authority over life and death. Today it represents power – but the power of knowledge and the importance of the University in the community.

The Chancellor's Chair was presented to the University of Alberta as a gift from the 1922 graduating class. It is made of solid oak with a padded leather back and seat. Above the padded leather back is carved the University motto "Quaecumque Vera" together with the class year, 1922, and the University coat-of-arms.

In 1987, the family and friends of Dr Charles Malcolm Macleod, Chair of the Board of Governors from 1950 to 1966, presented a memorial gift to the University of an oak stand for the University of Alberta Mace and two additional chairs for use by the President and the Chair of the Board of Governors at Convocation.

Convocation

In the eleventh century, a new vitality quickened all aspects of the civilization of Western Europe. The creative forces thus unleashed soon found expression in new institutions, and of these the university bids fair to be the most enduring. The modern university is the lineal descendant of the university of the Middle Ages. Its purposes and organization, even much of its ceremonial, are medieval in origin.

The medieval university was originally called a studium generale, that is, a place of learning to which teachers and students from anywhere resorted. The first studia were at Salerno, Bologna, and Paris. These came into existence spontaneously and developed through the twelfth century as the needs of the time and their inner necessities dictated. In the thirteenth century these spontaneous associations crystallized into guilds or corporations endowed by Church and State with specific privileges which guaranteed the internal autonomy necessary for the vocation of study. To these corporations was increasingly applied the word universitas denoting the entire group of those responsible for the transmission of higher learning and the pursuit of knowledge.

By the beginning of the fourteenth century, two forms of university organization had appeared. At Bologna, which was primarily a higher school of canon and civil law to which came men experienced in ecclesiastical and secular administration, the control of the studium generale passed to the students; hence Bologna was a universitas scholarum. On the other hand in Paris and Oxford, whose dominant faculty was the Faculty of Arts, the studium emerged under the direction of a guild of teachers, a universitas magistrorum. Through its own officials, notably the chancellor (once symbol of external control and by now of internal autonomy), the guild of teachers developed its courses of instruction, administered its own affairs and admitted to its company only those who had met its intellectual standards. The University of Alberta stands in the tradition of Paris and Oxford.

Originally the goal of the medieval student was certification by the guild of teachers that he also was qualified to teach (the licentia docendi). With the passage of time the student's progress through the curriculum was marked by ceremonies which signified his successful attainment of a certain level (gradus or in modern language, degree) of competence. The Bachelor had completed his apprenticeship in the Faculty of Arts. The Master was now qualified to teach in that Faculty and was thus incorporated into the universitas magistrorum. The Doctor was one who, having obtained the mastership, had successfully completed the curriculum of one of the "higher" faculties (in the Middle Ages, law, medicine, and theology) and was now qualified to teach in those faculties. Inevitably the degrees of the universitas did more than admit their holders to the teaching profession. They served the wider social purpose of demonstrating their holders' fitness to serve the entire medieval community.

Today's ceremony stems from the medieval tradition. The procession of the guild of teachers, whose solemn assembly, or convocation, is the modern equivalent of the medieval magna congregatio of all faculties, is lead by the Chancellor and the Chief Marshal carrying the mace, the symbol of the University's corporate authority. The academic gowns, hoods, and caps, once the sober, disciplined dress of secular clergy and teachers, declare in their various designs and colors the academic qualifications of the Faculty. The citations and presentations by the Faculty to the Chancellor attest to him and to society the degree of proficiency attained by the students of the University. There follows a visible and public act whereby the universitas magistrorum, acting through its Chancellor, confers upon the students the appropriate degree. It is the act, not a certificate, which constitutes the validity of the degree bestowed. More, the formula, "I admit you" and the placing of the students' hands within the hands of the Chancellor and his associates, bind the students in the appropriate degree to the universitas magistrorum. The students thereafter bear for all time the mark of their association with this University. They have received what the University has been and presently is. Since they bear in themselves the promise of the future, they are what the University hopes to be. For all its solemnity, convocation is a joyous occasion.

The history of academic dress reaches far back into early days of the oldest universities. A statute of 1321 required that all "Doctors, Licentiates, and Bachelors" of the University Coimbra wear gowns. In England, in the second half of the 14th century, the statutes of certain colleges forbade "excess apparel" and prescribed the wearing of a long gown. It is still a controversial question as to whether academic dress finds its sources chiefly in ecclesiastical or in civilian dress. Gowns may have been counted necessary for warmth in the unheated buildings frequented by medieval scholars. Hoods seem to have served to cover the tonsured head until superseded for that purpose by the skull cap. This was itself displaced by a headdress more or less like one or another of those now recognized as "academic." [The mortar board, the hard, square cap commonly used as academic headdress today, evolved from the softer, more flexible "square cap" that was introduced in England in about 1490 and is named for the square board on a handle used by stone masons for holding the mixed mortar to be applied to walls.] Both Cambridge and Oxford have made academic dress a matter of university control to the extent of even its minor details and have repeatedly issued revised regulations. In Laudian days in Oxford it was prescribed that any tailor who departed from authorized design "even by a nail's breadth" in the making of any article of collegiate costume was to be punished by the vice-chancellor of the university.

Academic dress at the University of Alberta generally follows the prescription of Cambridge University in the design of the gown, and that of Oxford University in the design of the hood. The following page provides a detailed description of the academic dress at this institution.

In addition to the apparel worn by holders of degrees conferred by the University of Alberta, a collection of apparel specific to particular offices has also been developed. The President of the University wears a green gown faced with gold braid trim and lining and a green cap with a gold tassel. The Chancellor and Chancellors Emeriti wear gowns of teal blue with silver trim and black caps with silver tassels. The gowns of the senior officials bear an embroidered crest of the University. University Governors and Senators wear stoles bearing the crest of the University over their gowns: gold for Governors and green for Senators. The University Registrar wears a green gown with gold trim on the sleeves.

Graduates and staff of the University of Alberta who wish to purchase their own academic apparel are invited to contact: Harcourt's Limited, 26-28 Duncan Street, Toronto, ON, M5V 2B9. Order forms may be obtained by contacting the Convocation Officer in the Office of the Registrar.

Doctorate Degrees

Doctors' gowns (PhD, DMus, and EdD) conform to the Intercollegiate Code in design. They are made of black material and the velvet trim on the sleeves is Philosophy Blue for the PhD and DMus, and Education Light Blue for the EdD. Doctor's hoods conform to the Intercollegiate Code in shape, size, and color. They are made of black material to match the gown, and have a full lining of gold satin with a six-inch green satin chevron. The velvet trim distinguishes the two degrees and matches the velvet trim on the gown's sleeves. There is a narrow green piping where the gold lining joins the black material. Mortarboards are the standard black trencher shape with black tassels, which are worn forward and to the left.

Honorary Doctorates

Honorary Doctors of Laws, Letters, and Science wear a scarlet robe faced with white silk. Hoods are made in the Cambridge form of scarlet silk with a full lining of white silk. Caps are black velvet with a gold tassel.

Honorary Degree Recipients

Maggie Hodgson has been with the Nechi Institute on Alcohol and Drug Education since 1980, first as a trainer/educator and as Executive Director since 1982. The Centre is a native adult addictions counsellor training and research centre which trains the staff of the 45 native addictions programs in Alberta. Trainees come from various treatment, detox, half-way houses, and walk-in counselling service centres and travel to the Centre from across Canada, the US, South Africa, Nicaragua, Australia, and New Zealand.

A Carrier Indian from British Columbia, Ms Hodgson was appointed by the Prime Minister's Office to sit as a board member on the new Canadian Centre on Substance Abuse. She was also the initiator of the Canada-wide campaign for the declaration of National Addictions Awareness Week as proclaimed by the federal Minister of Health and Welfare.

Ms Hodgson has been a leader in the development of such programs as employee assistance for native bands and organizations, a native specific family violence training package and a national native training development program. Co-author of a book on child sexual abuse, The Spirit Weeps, Ms Hodgson also wrote a chapter for Healing Voices.

The Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of the honorary degree to Maggie Hodgson.

Hotamé-Taneo'o: Art of the Dog Soldiers. Victoria: Northland Explorations, 1987. Kerry D Liggins and Michael A Owens, editors. Dog soldiers were the elite warriors of such Plains Indians tribes as the Cheyenne and Osage. Their beautiful shields, of which few survive, were talismanic ornaments believed to possess mystical powers. This important scholarly essay contains stunning photographs of five shields and a useful bibliography. This volume, Number 15 of only 25 copies, is a notable addition to the Javitch Collection of aboriginal materials.

President of Augustana University College (formerly Camrose Lutheran University College) for the past 24 years, the Reverend K Glen Johnson led the transformation of the Institution. When he arrived in 1968, it operated as a high school and offered only first-year university courses. Today, it awards undergraduate degrees in 20 disciplines, holds the distinction of being Alberta's first and only university college, and is a full-fledged member of the Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada.

The Reverend K Glen Johnson is Chair of the Private College Coordinating Council and was involved in the negotiations with the Alberta government that led to the accreditation for the province's private colleges. The Reverend Johnson was President of the Lutheran Education Conference of North America for 1990-91 and helped to host its 1989 annual meeting in Banff, the first ever held in Canada.

A native of Weyburn, Saskatchewan, the Reverend Johnson was ordained into the Ministry of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Canada in 1962. He served as Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church in Starbuck, Manitoba before assuming the Presidency of Augustana University College in 1968.

The Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of the honorary degree to Reverend K Glen Johnson.

Philip Freneau's Poems Written Between the Years 1768 and 1794. Monmouth, NJ: printed at the Press of the Author, 1795. Freneau (1752-1832) was the first important American poet. Writing outside of a literary climate in a crude age, he nevertheless produced lyrics that are still alive, including nature poems such as "The Wild Honey Suckle." He wrote poems of politics and independence, rousing songs of the sea, and was first to place the Indian in American poetry in "The Indian Burying Ground." This is the scarce first complete edition with many revisions.

The list of candidates for degrees, diplomas, and certificates appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline.

Honorary Degree Recipients

President Hiroshi Kurimoto, of Nagoya University of Commerce and Business Administration in Japan founded the Koryo International College (a junior college for girls) in 1982 and established Japan's first graduate School of Management Information Systems at the Yuichi Memorial School of Business Administration. He was also instrumental in expanding the curriculum at Nagoya University to include a department of management information systems and a department of international economics. President Kurimoto's future plans include a new department of business law for Nagoya University.

President Kurimoto began his career in education in 1960 as lecturer at Nagoya University and was appointed full professor in 1974. He assumed the Presidency of Nagoya University in 1981 following the death of his father, and was the youngest President in Japan at that time.

The Kurimoto family has a long association with the University of Alberta: President Kurimoto's father was the first Japanese graduate from the University, and the family was instrumental in establishing and constructing Kurimoto Japanese Garden at the Devonian Botanic Garden.

The Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of the honorary degree to President Hiroshi Kurimoto.

Susan Allix' A Flora. London, 1992. This beautiful volume contains words about flowers from 16 authors as illustrated by one of England's foremost book artists. No displayed page can reveal the variety and artistry of these 23 prints using etching, mezzotint, woodcut, and stipple engraving. Many of them are hand colored on hand-made papers, including special Japanese papers. The result is a bouquet of beautiful images with classical texts and is Number 17 of 26 copies hand bound by the artist.

An alumna of the University, Mary Lobay has been involved in education for over thirty years: as a teacher, administrator, and volunteer. She has a long association with her alma mater, having recently completed 12 years on the Senate, and is currently in her sixth year as a member of the Board of Governors.

Mrs Lobay has been president or chair of several provincial and civic organizations including the Alberta Historic Resources Board, the Fort Edmonton Historical Foundation, Central and East European Studies Society of Alberta and is currently the Governor of the Canadian Ukrainian Museum and Archives. She also serves on the foundations of both the Capital Care Group of Hospitals and the Charles Camsell Provincial Hospital and was the first woman in Canada to chair a Police Commission (Edmonton).

Mrs Lobay's involvement has led to numerous honors and awards such as the City of Edmonton Award and an Alberta Achievement Award. In 1988 she was appointed to the Order of Canada. She was recently made an honorary life member of the Vanier Institute of the Family.

The Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of the honorary degree to Mrs Mary Lobay.

Sarah Green's Mental Improvement for a Young Lady, on her entrance into the World: addressed to a favourite niece. London: printed at the Minerva Press, 1793. One of many obscure professional women writers who have been reclaimed by modern scholars, Green wrote more than 20 popular works including satires of romance novels; this book of proper conduct was her best known. Her fascinating, sometimes amusing, insight into the instruction of women at that time reveals her as a colorful and vigorous writer. This volume is an important addition to the library's Minerva Press collection, the strongest in Canada.

This Convocation Program is printed on recycled paper containing at least 50% recycled fiber including 10% post-consumer waste paper.

If you can, please share this program with a companion. Then, if you do not take it home, please leave it (in good repair) on the table outside the doors as you exit the auditorium. This will help us ensure that someone else can use it on another day of Convocation, and subsequently conserve paper.
Thank you for your assistance.
